

Online Wildlife Talk with Wildlife Expert Andrew Gibson

Dear Terry,

Spring into action this February to find out how you can encourage nature into your communities.

Are you seeking advice on window boxes or looking for the early signs of wildlife in your local ponds? Or do you have a wildlife and community conflict in your neighbourhood?

The Neighbourhood Network team are encouraging participants to email any photographs that could form part of the discussion, whether this is from issues you may have or positive experiences you would like to share.

The team are pleased to be joined by Andrew Gibson from Yorkshire Wildlife Trust, who will be able to discuss your questions and share his experiences and advice.

This session will be an open and honest discussion based around the participants needs and we would welcome everyone to get involved.

To register your attendance, and share your images which are up for discussion please email office@nnetwork.org.uk.

The session will be hosted on Zoom on Monday 22nd February at 10.30am.
